

Northwestern University

2023-24 Employer Reimbursement Plan Student Finance

Northwestern University's employer reimbursement plan is designed for students whose employers offer reimbursement for tuition charges. It allows participants to defer their tuition payments to Northwestern until after the term has been completed. There are no finance or interest charges; the only cost is a nonrefundable application fee.

Eligibility

Participation in the plan is open to students in the Northwestern University School of Professional Studies, the Kellogg School of Management's part-time MBA program and the Medill School of Journalism's Integrated Marketing Communications Master's professional degree. Eligibility is contingent upon the student's employer completing Part II of this form. To be accepted into this program, all students must be in good financial standing with the University; students must have no outstanding balance.

Applying

To apply for the plan, complete Part I of the application and have your employer complete Part II. Return the completed application to Student Finance. See below for fee and deadline information.

Fee

The application fee is nonrefundable.

| | Undergraduate | Graduate |
|-----------|---------------|----------|
| Per term | $100 | $200 |
| Per year* | $275 | $550 |

*Does not include summer; term rate applies to summer.

future.

- You will be liable for collection, court, and legal costs.

Audits

Northwestern University reserves the right to conduct random audits, which involve contacting your employer about your employment status.

Billing

Upon acceptance of your application and completion of your

